Cegelec strengthens its local presence with three new acquisitions in France

Paris, 23 June 2008

Cegelec, an international group providing technological services to companies and public authorities, recently acquired three new companies in France, bringing to a total of 1,300 the number of new employees who joined the company since its second LMBO in March 2006 and the additional aggregate revenue generated by external growth during the same period to 150 million euros.

A2M, based in Albi with a staff of about 100 people, is specialised in industrial maintenance, particularly mechanical maintenance, and is widely present in the regions Midi- Pyrénées and Limousin.

SEEAP is a major player in Provence and Haute- Provence in the fields of electrical networks, in electricity systems for the industry and the building sector, as well as in public lighting.

MTN Saire, with its head office close to Nantes, is a specialist in industrial electricity and automation systems, and serves companies and public authorities in the Western part of France.

These three companies, with a strong presence in their respective regions and a solid reputation for their skills, strengthen existence competencies within Cegelec and complement a very large network of local agencies and offices which offer the Group a unique presence close to its customers all over the French territory.
